INTRODUCTION

In December 2008, the Florida State Board of Education adopted the Next Generation Sunshine State Standards (NGSSS) for Social Studies. The grade 7 Civics and Government strand of these standards will be used to develop the Civics End-of-Course (EOC) Assessment. The Florida State Board of Education has made the standards available online at <http://www.floridastandards.org/Standards/FLStandardSearch.aspx>. The 2010 Florida Legislature authorized the Florida EOC Assessments with the passage of Senate Bill 4.

The NGSSS are subdivided into benchmarks that identify what a student should know and be able to do following completion of the course. This document, Civics End-of-Course Assessment Test Item Specifications (Specifications), provides details about the portion of the standards assessment designed to assess Civics and includes information about the benchmarks, the stimulus types, and the test items.

The Civics EOC Assessment measures achievement of Florida students enrolled in any of six different Civics courses, specifically M/J Civics-year (2106010), M/J Civics (2106015), M/J Civics & Career Planning (2106016), M/J Civics, Advanced (2106020), M/J Civics, Advanced (2106025), M/J Civics, Advanced (2106026), M/J Civics and Digital Technologies (2106029), or an equivalent course, by assessing student progress on benchmarks from the NGSSS that are assigned to Civics course descriptions, which are located in Appendix E.

Origin and Purpose of the Specifications

The Florida Department of Education (FDOE) and committees of experienced Florida educators developed and approved the Specifications. The Specifications is a resource that defines the content and format of the test and test items for item writers and reviewers. The Specifications indicates the alignment of test items with the NGSSS. It also serves to provide all stakeholders with information about the scope and function of the end-of-course assessments.

Scope of this Document

The Specifications for Civics EOC Assessment provides general guidelines for the development of all test items used in the assessment.

The Overall Considerations section in this Introduction provides an explanation of the Civics concepts and elements assessed by the test. The Criteria for Civics EOC Assessment Test Items section explains the general guidelines for selection and development of multiple-choice items. The Item Difficulty and Cognitive Complexity of Civics EOC Assessment Test Items addresses cognitive complexity levels as well as item difficulty and universal design. The Review Procedures for the Civics EOC Assessment Test Items section covers the review processes used to ensure the quality of the stimuli and test items. The Individual Benchmark Specifications section contains specific information about each benchmark. This section provides benchmark clarification statements, content limits, stimulus attributes, content focus, and a sample item for each benchmark.

Overall Considerations

This section of the Specifications describes the guidelines that apply to all test items developed for the Civics EOC Assessment.

Overall considerations are broad item-development issues that should be addressed during the development of test items. Other sections of Criteria for Civics End-of-Course Assessment Items relate more specifically to one aspect of the development (e.g., content limits or stimulus attributes).

1. Most test items should be written to measure primarily one benchmark; however, other benchmarks may also be reflected in the item context.
2. Some benchmarks are combined for assessment; the individual specification indicates which benchmarks are combined.
3. Test items should be appropriate for students in terms of course content experience and difficulty, cognitive development, and reading level.
4. Test items should be written to match a variety of cognitive levels. Each benchmark should be assessed by items of varying cognitive complexity.
5. The reading level of the test items should be grade 7, except for specifically assessed Civics terms or concepts.
6. Test items should assess the application of the concept rather than the memorization of Civics dates, names, facts, laws, or theories unless otherwise noted in the individual benchmark specifications.
7. Test items will not require the student to define terms but to understand terms used in context.
8. Test items will not require the student to create a chart, table, or graph.
9. Each test item should be written clearly and unambiguously to elicit the desired response.
10. Test items should not be designed to create disadvantage or exhibit disrespect to anyone in regard to age, gender, race, ethnicity, language, religion, socioeconomic status, disability, occupation, or geographic region.
11. The item context should be designed to interest middle school students.
12. All test items should be placed in a real-world context unless otherwise noted in the individual benchmark specifications. The context should lead the student cognitively to the question. Every effort should be made to keep the test items as concise as possible without losing cognitive flow or missing the overall idea or concept.
13. The item content should be timely but not likely to become dated too quickly.

CRITERIA FOR CIVICS END-OF-COURSE ASSESSMENT TEST ITEMS

All Civics EOC Assessment test items are in multiple-choice (MC) format. The general specifications on pages 3 through 6 cover the following criteria for the Civics EOC Assessment:

- Use of Graphics
- Item Style and Format
- Scope of Test Items
- Guidelines for Item Writers

Use of Graphics

Graphics are used to provide both necessary and supplemental information. That is, most graphics contain information that is necessary for answering the question, while other graphics illustrate or support the context of the question. Items may include political cartoons, maps, photographs, diagrams, illustrations, charts, or tables, unless otherwise noted in the Individual Benchmark Specifications section.

Item Style and Format

This section presents stylistic guidelines and formatting directions that should be followed while developing test items.

General Guidelines

1. The Civics EOC Assessment is a computer-based assessment. All items written for this assessment should be designed and written primarily for use with a computer-based test.
2. Test items should be clear and concise, and they should use vocabulary and sentence structure appropriate for grade 7.
3. Civics and/or Social Studies concepts should be appropriate to the content covered in the Civics course descriptions. The course descriptions can be found in Appendix E.
4. Test items should have only one correct answer. The words most likely or best should be used sparingly.
5. The final sentence of all item stems must be expressed as a question.
6. Graphics in test items should be clearly labeled and contain all information necessary for a student with benchmark mastery to answer the test item correctly.
7. Test item questions using the word not should emphasize the word not using all uppercase letters (e.g., “Which of the following is NOT an example of . . .”). The word not should be used sparingly.

Multiple-Choice (MC) Items

1. MC items should take approximately one minute per item to answer.
2. MC items are worth one point each.
3. MC items should have four answer options (A, B, C, D).
4. During item development and review, the correct response should be indicated with an asterisk next to the answer option letter.
5. During item development and review, the rationale for distractors (incorrect answer options) should be indicated and set off in brackets.
6. In most cases, answer options should be arranged vertically beneath the item stem.
7. If the answer options for an item are strictly numerical, they should be arranged in ascending or descending order, with the place values of digits aligned. When the item requires the identification of a choice from the item stem, table, chart, or illustration, the options should be arranged as they are presented in the item stem.
8. Answer options should be arranged by the logic presented in the test item, by alphabetical order, or by length. Options may also be ordered in reverse alphabetical order or from longest to shortest. Options that are one word in length should be in alphabetical or reverse alphabetical order.
9. Each distractor should be a plausible answer for someone who does not know the correct answer.
10. Whenever possible, distractors should include common Civics misconceptions or represent conceptual or factual errors commonly made by students who have not mastered the assessed concepts.
11. All distractors should be written in a style appropriate to the question asked. For example, a how question should have distractors that explain how.
12. Paired comparison structure of options should be avoided.
13. Options should have parallel structure whenever possible. Test items should not have an outlier (e.g., an option that is significantly longer than or different from the other options).
14. Test items should not be clued or answered by information in the stem or other options.
15. Options such as none of the above, all of the above, not here, not enough information, or cannot be determined should not be used as distractor rationales.
16. If an option is a single word or a phrase, the option should start with a lowercase letter. If an option is a sentence, the sentence should be conventionally capitalized and punctuated. Options that are imperatives should be treated as sentences.

Scope of Test Items

The scope of Civics EOC Assessment test items is presented in Appendix B. The benchmarks serve as the objectives to which the test items are written. There may be additional guidelines or restrictions located in the individual benchmark specifications.

This document also contains remarks and examples under various benchmarks giving specific content that potentially could be assessed. The remarks can also be used to focus test items on specific subjects covered by the benchmark, in addition to, but not exclusive of, the list of Content Focus topics found in the Individual Benchmark Specifications section. The remarks and additional examples can be found by searching for specific benchmark numbers on the NGSSS website at <http://www.floridastandards.org/Standards/FLStandardSearch.aspx>.

Guidelines for Item Writers

Civics item writers must have a comprehensive knowledge of the assessed Civics curriculum and a strong understanding of the concepts. Item writers should know and consistently apply the guidelines established in the Specifications as well as contribute to the goal of developing test content that allows students to perform at their best. Item writers are also expected to use their best judgment in writing items that measure the Civics benchmarks of the NGSSS without introducing extraneous elements that reflect bias for or against a group of students.

Item writers for the Civics EOC Assessment must submit items in a particular format and must include the following information about each item. Because items are rated by committees of Florida educators following submission to the FDOE, familiarity with the directions for rating items (found in Appendix A) will prove useful to all item writers.

Format	Item writers must submit test items in the agreed-upon template. All appropriate sections of the template should be completed before the items are submitted.
Sources	Item writers are expected to provide sources for all verifiable information included in the test item. Acceptable sources include scholarly studies and/or Internet sites maintained by reputable organizations such as government agencies, universities, or research centers.
Correct Response	Item writers must supply the correct response. Each distractor should be a believable answer for someone who does not know the correct answer. Rationales must include explanations for these errors.
Submission of Items	When submitting items, item writers must balance several factors. Item submissions should: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• include items of varying difficulty;• include items of varying cognitive complexity;• include items from varying content foci;• include the content source(s) for the item;• have a balance in location of the correct answer within benchmarks; and• be contemporaneously and historically accurate.

ITEM DIFFICULTY AND COGNITIVE COMPLEXITY OF CIVICS END-OF-COURSE ASSESSMENT TEST ITEMS

Educational standards and assessments are aligned based on the category of content covered and also on the complexity of knowledge required. The Civics EOC Assessment items, while assessing Florida's NGSSS, must also reflect these goals and standards. It is important to develop items that elicit student responses that demonstrate the complexity of knowledge and skills required to meet these objectives. The degree of challenge of test items is currently categorized in two ways: item difficulty and cognitive complexity.

Item Difficulty

The difficulty of test items is initially estimated by committees of educators participating in Item Content Review meetings each year. As each test item is reviewed, committee members make a prediction of difficulty based upon their knowledge of student performance at the given grade level. The classification scheme used for this prediction of item difficulty is based on the following:

- | | |
|--------------------|--|
| Easy | More than 70 percent of the students are likely to respond correctly. |
| Average | Between 40 percent and 70 percent of the students are likely to respond correctly. |
| Challenging | Fewer than 40 percent of the students are likely to respond correctly. |

After an item appears on a test, item difficulty refers to the actual percentage of students who chose the correct answer.

Cognitive Complexity

Cognitive complexity refers to the cognitive demand associated with an item. The cognitive classification system implemented by FDOE is based upon Dr. Norman L. Webb’s Depth of Knowledge (DOK) levels.¹ The rationale for classifying a test item by its DOK level of complexity focuses on the expectations made of the test item, not on the ability of the student. When classifying a test item’s demands on thinking (i.e., what the test item requires the student to recall, understand, analyze, and do), it is assumed that the student is familiar with the basic concepts of the task. Test items are chosen for the EOC assessments and the FCAT 2.0 based on the NGSSS and their grade-level appropriateness, but the complexity of the test items remains independent of the particular curriculum a student has experienced. On any given assessment, the cognitive complexity of a multiple-choice item may be affected by the distractors. The cognitive complexity of a test item depends on the grade level of the assessment; a test item that has a high level of cognitive complexity at one grade may not be as complex at a higher grade.

The categories—low complexity, moderate complexity, and high complexity—form an ordered description of the demands an item may make on a student. For example, low-complexity test items may require a student to solve a one-step problem. Moderate-complexity test items may require multiple steps. High-complexity test items may require a student to analyze and synthesize information. The distinctions made in item complexity ensure that items will assess the depth of student knowledge at each benchmark. The intent of the item writer weighs heavily in determining the complexity of a test item. At the end of this section, three middle school Civics items illustrate how a single concept may be assessed by test items with increasing cognitive complexity.

The pages that follow illustrate some of the varying demands that test items might make at each complexity level for the Civics EOC Assessment. Note that test items may fit one or more descriptions. In most instances, these test items are classified in the highest level of complexity demanded by the test item. Caution must be used in referring to the table of descriptors that is provided for each cognitive complexity level. This table is provided for ease of reference, but the ultimate determination of item complexity should be made considering the overall cognitive demand placed on a student. Another table provides the breakdown of the percentage of points by cognitive complexity level.

Low Complexity

Civics low-complexity test items rely heavily on the recall and recognition of previously learned concepts and principles. Low-complexity test items involve the recognition or recall of information such as a fact, definition, term, or simple procedure. These items can involve recognizing information and identifying characteristics.

Below is an example of a low-complexity test item that is based on Benchmark SS.7.C.1.4. For more information about this item, see page 24.

The statements below are from a historical document.

In which document are these statements found?

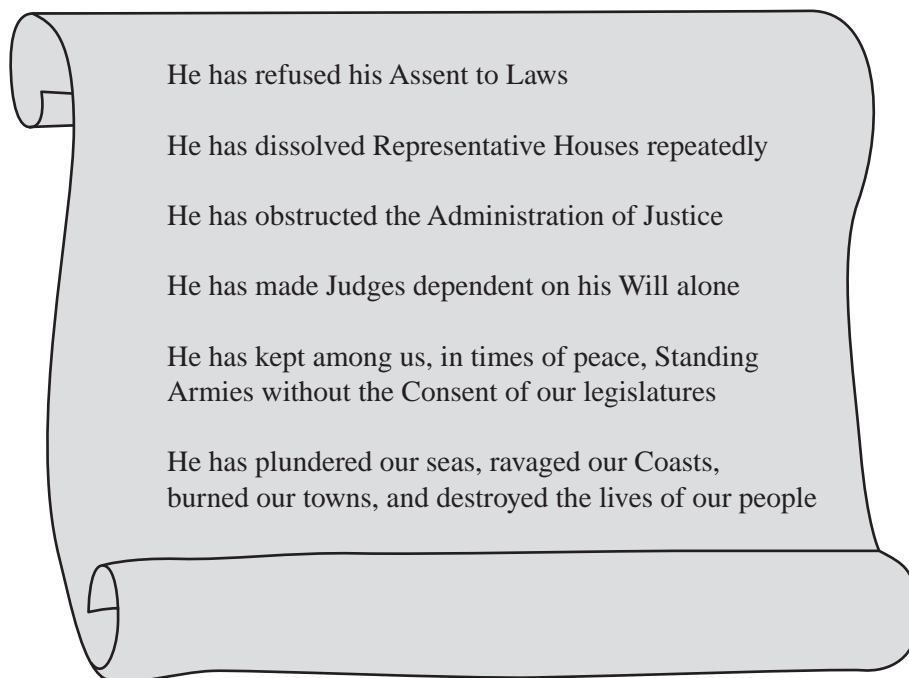

- A. Magna Carta
- B. Mayflower Compact
- C. Articles of Confederation
- ★ D. Declaration of Independence

Moderate Complexity

Civics moderate-complexity test items involve more flexible thinking than low-complexity test items require. Moderate-complexity test items involve the engagement of some mental processing beyond recalling or reproducing a response. They also involve examining relationships, determining cause and effect, and determining significance.

Below is an example of a moderate-complexity test item that is based on Benchmark SS.7.C.1.4. For more information about this item, see page 24.

The statements below are from a historical document.

How did the opinions expressed in these statements help influence the American political system in the United States?

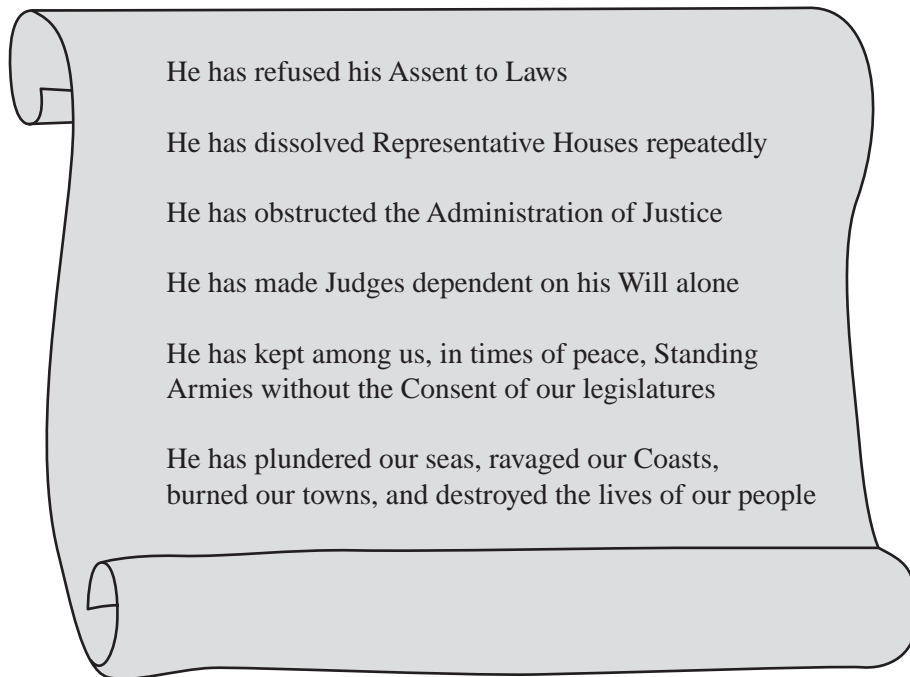

- A. Citizens believed legislators should be elected.
- ★ B. Citizens believed government should be limited.
- C. Voters believed laws should be publicly debated.
- D. Voters believed equality should be legally assured.

High Complexity

Civics high-complexity test items make heavy demands on student thinking. Students must engage in more abstract reasoning, planning, analysis, judgment, and creative thought. These test items require that the student think in an abstract and sophisticated way, often involving multiple steps.

Below is an example of a high-complexity test item that is based on Benchmark SS.7.C.1.4. For more information about this item, see page 24.

The statements below are from a historical document.

How does the modern political system in the United States uphold the principles expressed in these statements?

- A. by requiring voter registration laws for local elections
- ★ B. by causing elected officials to be responsible to citizen needs
- C. by allowing federal judges to be appointed by elected officials
- D. by making local governments responsible for monitoring elections

The following table is provided for ease of reference; however, caution must be used in referring to this table of descriptors for each cognitive complexity level. The ultimate determination of an item’s cognitive complexity should be made considering the intent of the overall cognitive demand placed on a student.

The table below shows the target ranges for the percentage of points by cognitive complexity level on each Civics EOC Assessment.

Percentage of Points by Cognitive Complexity Level for Civics EOC Assessment

Course	Low	Moderate	High
Civics	15%–25%	45%–65%	15%–25%

Universal Design

The application of universal design principles helps develop assessments that are usable to the greatest number of test takers, including students with disabilities and nonnative speakers of English. To support the goal of providing access to all students, the test maximizes readability, legibility, and compatibility with accommodations, and test development includes a review for bias and sensitivity.

The FDOE trains both internal and external reviewers to revise items, allowing for the widest possible range of student participation. Item writers must attend to the best practices suggested by universal design including, but not limited to:

- reduction in wordiness;
- avoidance of ambiguity;
- selection of reader-friendly construction and terminology; and
- consistently applied concept names and graphic conventions.

Universal design principles also inform decisions about test layout and design including, but not limited to, type size, line length, spacing, and graphics.

REVIEW PROCEDURES FOR CIVICS END-OF-COURSE ASSESSMENT TEST ITEMS

Prior to appearing on any Florida state assessment, all Civics test items must pass several levels of review as part of the development process. Florida educators and citizens, in conjunction with the FDOE and the assessment contractors, scrutinize all material related to test items prior to accepting the items for placement on the tests.

Review for Potential Bias and Community Sensitivity

Civics test items are reviewed by groups of Florida educators generally representative of Florida's geographic regions and culturally diverse population. Test items are reviewed for the following kinds of bias: gender, racial, ethnic, political, linguistic, religious, geographic, and socioeconomic. Item reviews also include consideration of issues related to individuals with disabilities.

Florida citizens associated with a variety of organizations and institutions review all test items for issues of potential concern to members of the community at large. The purpose for this review is to ensure that the primary purpose of assessing student achievement of Civics benchmarks is not undermined by inadvertently including in the test any material that parents and other stakeholders may deem inappropriate. Reviewers are asked to consider the variety of cultural, regional, philosophical, political, and religious backgrounds throughout Florida and to determine whether the subject matter will be acceptable to Florida students, their parents, and other members of Florida communities. Most topics are acceptable if the material is handled tastefully; is well written; and presents the topics from a wholesome (ethical and educational), inoffensive, and interesting viewpoint within a historical or contemporary context. Test items are written to meet EOC test criteria and measure the content in the NGSSS for Civics.

Review of Test Items

The FDOE and the assessment contractor review all test items during the item-development process.

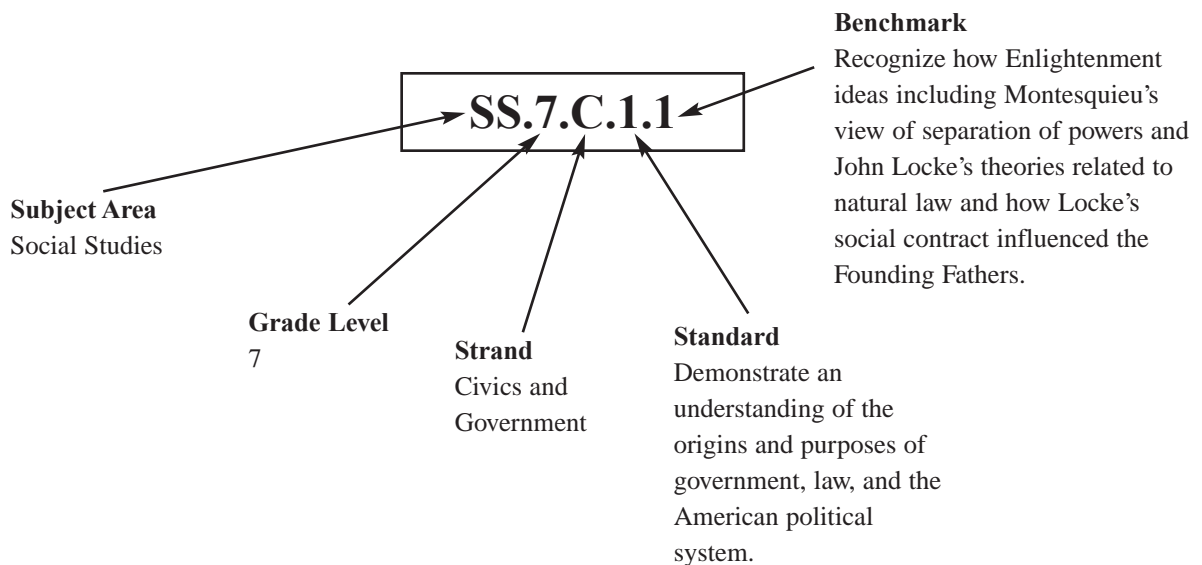

Groups of Florida Civics educators are subsequently convened to review the test items for content characteristics and item specifications. The content review focuses on validity, determining whether each item is a valid measure of the designated NGSSS benchmark as defined by the Specifications for test items. Separate reviews for bias and sensitivity are also conducted as noted above.

GUIDE TO THE INDIVIDUAL BENCHMARK SPECIFICATIONS

Benchmark Classification System

Each benchmark in the Standards is labeled with a system of numbers and letters.

- The two letters in the first position of the code identify the Subject Area (e.g., SS for social studies).
- The number in the second position represents the Grade Level to which the benchmark belongs.
- The letter in the third position represents the Strand to which the benchmark belongs (e.g., A represents American History, G represents Geography, E represents Economics, W represents World History, C represents Civics and Government, and H represents Humanities).
- The number in the fourth position represents the Standard.
- The number in the last position of the code identifies the specific Benchmark under the Standard.

Grade 7
Strand C	Civics and Government
Standard 1	Demonstrate an understanding of the origins and purposes of government, law, and the American political system.
SS.7.C.1.1	Recognize how Enlightenment ideas including Montesquieu's view of separation of powers and John Locke's theories related to natural law and how Locke's social contract influenced the Founding Fathers.

Definitions of Benchmark Specifications

The Specifications identifies how Florida’s NGSSS benchmarks are assessed on the Civics EOC Assessment. For each benchmark assessed in Civics, the following information is provided in each Individual Benchmark Specifications section:

Strand	refers to a category of knowledge. The strands for Social Studies are American History, Geography, Economics, World History, Civics & Government, and Humanities.
Reporting Category	refers to groupings of related benchmarks from the NGSSS that are used to summarize and report achievement for the Civics EOC Assessment. There are four reporting categories for Civics: Origins and Purposes of Law and Government; Roles, Rights, and Responsibilities of Citizens; Government Policies and Political Processes; Organization and Function of Government.
Standard	refers to the standard statement presented in the NGSSS.
Benchmark	refers to specific statements of expected student achievement. In some cases, two or more benchmarks are grouped together because of the relatedness of the concepts in those benchmarks. The assessment of one benchmark encompasses the context of the other related benchmarks. The related benchmarks are noted in the benchmark statement and are stated in the Also Assesses section.
Also Assesses	refers to the benchmarks that are closely related to the benchmark (see description above).
Benchmark Clarification	explains how the achievement of the benchmark will be demonstrated by students. Clarification statements are written for the benchmark and the Also Assesses benchmark(s). The clarification statements explain what students are expected to do when responding to the question.
Content Limits	define the range of content knowledge and degree of difficulty that should be assessed in the test items for the benchmark. Benchmark content limits are to be used in conjunction with the Overall Considerations section in the Specifications. The content limits defined in the Individual Benchmark Specifications may be an expansion or further restriction of the Overall Considerations.
Stimulus Attributes	define the types of stimulus materials that should be used in the test items, including the appropriate use of scenarios, content, or graphic materials.
Content Focus	defines the content measured by each test item. Content focus addresses the broad content and skills associated with the examples found in the standards, benchmarks, or benchmark clarifications.
Sample Items	are provided for each assessed benchmark. The sample items are presented in a format similar to the one used in the test. The correct answer for each sample item is identified with a five-point star.

INDIVIDUAL BENCHMARK SPECIFICATIONS FOR CIVICS END-OF-COURSE ASSESSMENT

This section of the Specifications describes how the Civics benchmarks are assessed on the Civics EOC Assessment. The benchmarks assigned to the Civics course descriptions serve as the foundation for this assessment. The Civics course descriptions can be found in Appendix E.

The sample items included in the Specifications represent, whenever possible, a wide range of difficulty and cognitive complexity. Although most of the test items are of average difficulty and moderate complexity, some of the items presented will be challenging for some students and are specifically included to prompt item writers to submit test items that will measure the abilities of students in higher achievement levels. As a general rule, test items should be written to varying cognitive complexities for each benchmark. This document is constructed to help item writers see a range of difficulty and complexity for test items that may appear on the test.
